DEPORTED IRISH CAPTIVES FREED

Free State Sends Prisoners Back to England as Result of Suit

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
For International News Service
DUBLIN, May 17.—The Irish deportees whose return to England was obtained through court proceedings instituted by Art Brien were sent back to England today by the Irish Free State government.

Amidst the utmost secrecy and under heavy military escort, 109 Irish deportees were marched from Mountjoy prison at 5 o'clock to the docks where they were hurried on board a government steamship. It sailed immediately for Holyhead.

The Irish women deportees were removed from the Kilmaham prison in motor lorries. They sang and cheered as they were driven up to join the men on the steamship.

The men sang and cheered all the way from the prison to the ship. The road was lined with armored cars and Free State military automobiles to prevent disorders.

Art O'Brien is an adherent of Eamonn de Valera and a supporter of the Irish republican cause. He was formerly known as the "Sinner" and an ambassador in London. He brought habeas corpus proceedings, winning in the highest court. The government appealed to the house of lords, but that body decided it had no jurisdiction. O'Brien had been taken to London for the proceedings. He was released, but subsequently re-arrested. Formal announcement was made in the house of commons that the Irish Free State would release the Irish prisoners who had been deported from England, so today's action caused no surprise.

SOLONS TO PASS U. C. LAND BILL

Governor Ready to Accept Amend Badham Law For Signature

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, May 17.—If Governor Richardson had signed the Southern Branch, University of California land appropriation measure, it will be passed by the assembly today, as amended by Assemblyman Willard E. Badham of Los Angeles.

Senator Lyons' original bill called for $450,000. This the governor refused to sign in view of other measures thought equally meritorious by other sections, going down to defeat in committee, but by taking $100,000 now and taking chances on future legislative voting additional money to carry out contracts to purchase necessary land, it is predicted the Los Angeles university will get all that it desires.

SINCLAIR'S BAIL PLACED AT $800

Socialist Author to Devote Time to Preparation for Coming Trial

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE
For International News Service
LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Free on $800 bail and his trial set for June 15, Upton Sinclair, author and socialist, arrested Tuesday night at San Pedro on a charge of conspiring to incite unrest and disturbing the peace, declared today he would take no further part in the existing longshoremen's strike and devote his entire efforts toward winning his own case.

"My arrest involves the question of whether a chief of police should declare martial law in everything but name," Sinclair said today. "I am merely a representative of the American civil liberty union, which does not espouse any social or political creed."

"When arrested I was speaking on private property with the permission of the owner. There were about a dozen persons present and all I was doing was reading the bill of rights of the United States constitution."

SIGHT WITHOUT EYES IS PLAIN

Paris Experiments Disclose That Perceptive Sense Is Epidermis Faculty

By ALICE LANGELEIER
For International News Service
PARIS, May 17.—Must have eyes to see?

Second sight for the blind recently been predicted by Louis Farigoule, a Parisian poet writes under the name of J. Romain.

The young writer bases theory on the "visio extracorpore" a sixth sense which becomes atrophied through disuse of this dormant sense. If mankind can be re-educated the use of this dormant sense blind will be able to see as the first experience of a kind took place at Nice, the of September, 1918, upon a blind soldier. A large figure 4, piece of white paper was placed in a frame under a glass and a soldier, trained by his efforts, took no more than ten seconds to decipher it. Experiments showed the possibility of distinguishing colors.

Tells Experiments

In 1921, Dr. Farigoule fished the result of new experiments in a little volume, "La Vision Extra-Retiniene" which was received with so much skepticism that she abandoned her work until a few years ago, when new attempts were begun at the Cochon hospital. Out of a total of several experiments, sixty finished, almost perfect results.

The skin, according to scientist, is a visual apparatus which contains veritable eyes, capable of rendering same service as the optic. Parts of the epidermis are sensitive to other things. Thus membrane of the nose plays most important part in the perception of colors, a special which in no way coincides with that of the smelling sense.

If the Bible reproaches for having eyes that saw not, hour seems at hand when man body will succeed in seeing without eyes.

CHRIST'S COMING
SERMON SUBJECT

Baptist Evangelist Speaks
Tonight on Meaning of Second Advent

Tonight at the evangelistic meetings at the First Baptist church, Miss Amy Lee Stockton will speak on the subject, "What It Will Mean to Be a Christian When Christ Comes Again." In dealing with this subject these things will be considered, "How will He come? When will He come? And for what purpose will He come?" There will be special music and songs will be sung in regard to the return of the Savior.

Last night the service was one of inspiration and enthusiasm.
Miss Gould opened the meeting with a song service which included a beautiful solo by Mrs. Arnold.
Miss Gould also sang, and Miss Stockton preached on the subject "Victory Through Retreat." She announced as her text Genesis 35:2, "Then Jacob said unto his household and to all that were with him, Put away the foreign gods that are among you, and purify yourselves, and change your garments, and let us arise and go up to Bethel."

Most Are Believers
"I am convinced," said the evangelist, "that the majority of people who call themselves unbelievers in the Lord Jesus Christ are actually believers, but they are worshipping some foreign god and they aren't willing to give it up, and their common sense teaches them that they cannot become Christians until they are willing for God to have first place. If you will uproot your unbelief you will find nesting in that root a little seed, and that seed is the seed of sin. Get rid of your sin and you'll get rid of your unbelief. The reason why more Christians are not living victoriously and honoring God with a whole-hearted allegiance is simply because they, too, are worshipping foreign gods and the Lord God Omnipotent is not given first place.

"To reach the place of perfect peace at Bethel there must also be purification. This is only possible through the blood of Jesus. The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, the Scripture says, 'cleanseth us from all sin.'"
"Jacob also challenged his followers to change their garments.
We must take off the robes of sin and put on the garments of Christ's righteousness, and by this outward change let the whole world know that an inner change has taken place. This is accomplished in lives of loyalty and earnest witnessing."

LEGION SECURES
INTERMENT SITE

Grand View Memorial Plot
To Be Dedicated on Decoration Day

ial to those of the comrades who have "gone west."
Grand View, situated on a sunny slope within the shadow of the foothills, is an ideal spot for such a memorial as is contemplated by the Legion. For two years the City Inter-Post council has been negotiating for a plot of sufficient acres to accommodate the demands which will be made upon it in the years to come. Only within the past few days has the final settlement of terms been made, through which the Legion comes into possession of a plot in which 11,000 of the comrades of the World War may find a final resting place side by side with the men with whom they fought and sacrificed in the cause of civilization.

Since the conclusion of the war, and the American Legion came to be charged with the sacred duty of laying to rest their comrades who had been called upon to make the Great Sacrifice, there has been no place to which the Legion might point as its own.
The remains of our dead have been laid to rest in places far remote from each other, contrary to the true Legion spirit which would have them in the one spot, hallowed by the sacrifices they made and the great service they rendered to the country they loved.

Haven of Beauty Hereafter the Legion will have the means looking towards the attainment of its ideal. The area allocated to the Legion in Grand View Memorial park is a tranquil spot, and one susceptible of development into a haven of great beauty. Plans of landscaping for the plot provide for a space in the center in which shall be dedicated a noble monument of enduring stone, symbolic of the ideal for which America fought in the war, and of the men who bore arms in furtherance of those ideals. Material assistance in the development and fulfillment of this plan comes from the officials of Grand View Memorial park who, through Len C. Davis, superintendent, have pledged $1000 as the first contribution to such a memorial as is proposed.

Preliminary to active work in raising funds for the permanent memorial, plans are now under way for the immediate raising of two 60-foot flagstaffs, from one of which will fly the national emblem, and from the other the official Legion colors, each with a spread of 10x18 feet. They will be raised each day with appropriate ceremony, flying sentinels over the resting place of those to whom the Nation and The American Legion pays honor.

Will Inter-Seventeen Awaiting the time when the Legion might secure such a plot as has now come into its possession, the remains of seventeen comrades who have "gone west," but whose expressed wish was that they might lie side by side with the comrades with whom they fought, have been held for interment. Interment of these bodies with the most solemn ceremony is the first duty of the day. Arrangements are being made for the appearance as orator of the day of an American Legionnaire, who has been signally honored, not only the Legion, but by the state of which he is the first citizen, and musical numbers appropriate to the occasion will round out a program which must be made a monument to the spirit of service of the American Legion.

Every true Legionnaire is charged that his first and most sacred duty on Decoration Day is attendance upon these memorial exercises.
Let us say to the splendid mothers of these splendid men who have passed beyond: "Your dead are our dead; we honor them beyond our poor words to express, and so long as there lives one of this great legion host, so long shall the memory of your beloved remain green in our minds and in our hearts."

Announce Schedule
For Baseball Games

"Preliminary practice was held on the high school grounds last night by baseball enthusiasts. Representatives from several of the teams were present and a schedule has been worked out which will take effect next week.

The rules of the game will follow regular baseball very largely, but an indoor soft ball will be used in all the games. The idea of playing by electric light is a novel feature in Glendale, and promises to be very popular.

The schedule as announced by Normal C. Hayhurst, chairman of Community Service athletic committee, is as follows:
Monday, 7:30 p. m.—Firemen and Policemen vs. Night School.
Tuesday—First M. E. Church
vs. Legion.
Wednesday—Newton Electric
Co. vs. Postal Employees.

These first games are for preliminary practice only, and will not be counted in the championship series.

A combination kiddie car and bicycle is popular with the children in Berlin.

MAY NAME BRYAN
HEAD OF CHURCH
Presbyterians to Elect Commoner as Head of General Assembly
By ELLIS YELLET
For International News Service
INDIANAPOLIS, May 17.—Virtual withdrawal as a candidate for moderator by Dr. Hugh K.
Walker, of Los Angeles, and nomination by him of William Jennings Bryan, made the selection of the Commoner of political fame as moderator of the Presbyterian church of the United States by the 135th general assembly appear certain today.
Representatives of the 987 Presbyteries caught by something of the fervor that marked the entrance of the "boy orator of the Plate" into the political arena thirty years ago, were ready to follow him in a crusade of his later, but still vigorous years for the regeneration of the church.
To reach the unchurched millions, to double the Presbyterian church membership within ten years was the high mark set for achievement by Bryan, but regarding his candidacy for moderator he maintained silence.
Sure of Election
Rev. Benjamin Gemmill, stated clerk of the Synod of Pennsylvania, predicted with absolute certainty that Bryan would be named.
"He is the greatest single force for moral uplift and righteousness in or out of the church," he declared.
Bryan was not alone as a big figure in the assembly whose greatest activities had been in another sphere than church work.
Will H. Hays, supreme arbiter of the moving picture industry, and a deacon in the Presbyterian church at Sullivan, Ind., was to deliver the principal address at tonight's meeting, making a plea in behalf of the ministers' pension fund.

Will Face Charge of Burglary in Glendale
Alwyn Reneau, who is believed to have practiced his trade as a burglar in this vicinity, is now in the custody of the Los Angeles police department. He will be brought to Glendale tomorrow morning for a hearing before Judge F. H. Lowe in the local police court. This afternoon G. H.
Daugherty, of 700 East Harvard street, Mrs. Ella Hill of 420 North Kenwood street and Mrs. H. A.
Woods of 820 South Verdugo road are in Los Angeles endeavoring to identify articles stolen from their homes about ten days ago.

ROBBERS LOOT BANK

WILSONVILLE, Ore., May 17.
—Robbers early today looted the vaults of the Farmers Bank here and escaped with cash and securities valued at $20,000. An acetylene torch was used to burn away the lock of the bank vault and burn holes in safety deposit boxes.
How many took part in the robbery has not been determined as no one in Wilsonville apparently saw or heard them.

TUJUNGA
HIGHWAYS TOPIC
A.T.C. OF C. MEET

Discussion Waxes Warm on Support of Boulder Dam Project

The Associated Chambers of Commerce were the guests of the Tujunga Chamber at a dinner at the community church Tuesday evening and held their meeting there after the banquet. A short entertainment preceded the meeting and Mrs. Bert Begue played and sang "Just An Old Love Song" and recited two pieces in Italian dialect, "The Baseball Game" and "Pasquale From the South."

Mr. Frazer and his small son entertained with some Scotch dancing, the father playing on the bag pipes and the son dancing the "Sword Dance" and The Highland Fling. Between sixty and seventy persons were present.

Judge Breidt, president of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, was the first speaker and urged cooperation in working out improvements and other projects contemplated by the chambers. Cooperation was the keynote of the meeting, although this fact was lost sight of later in the evening when some heated debating took place. Judge Breidt said that he thoroughly believes in the old adage, "In unity there is strength," and urged the members to work to one common end that all might be benefited.

Tells Highway Plans

The judge then introduced Mr. Bissel of La Crescenta, who is president of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau. Mr. Bissel spoke of the early efforts of the communities to get the highway built through the valley. The original plan of the highway commission was to build the pavement sixteen feet wide and then construct shoulders at the edges, three feet wide, of crushed rock and oil. Mr. Bissel stated that inasmuch as this promise had not been fulfilled it was not asking something new to petition the commission for a widening at this time, and expressed the general sentiment when he said that the present width is dangerous, making the widening not only a convenience, but an absolute necessity from the point of safety.

Judge Breidt then introduced Mr. Holloway, president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and turned the meeting over to them. Mr. Holloway spoke of the development of the San Fernando Valley and expressed his opinion that the road improvement work is the most important question before the chambers today.

Upon the secretary calling the roll it was discovered that some of the chambers were not represented at this meeting, among them Burbank and Zelzah. Crawshaw and Cox from Lankershim were present. Owensmouth was present. Wallace Morgan, J. O'B. Bodkin and Judge Breidt answered for Tujunga. For Fontana, James L. Brown, Frank P. Turner and Mark Collins; for La Crescenta, Mr. Bissel; for Mission Acres, Mr. Hodges. Mr. Barnes, of the Santa Monica Boulevard association, was present at the invitation of the Associated Chambers, and E. T. Scott, assistant superintendent of maintenance, southern division, of the highway commission, was also present. John Sweeney was introduced by Mr. Holloway as the most popular man in San Fernando, together with his colleagues, Jack Keady and Leo Flynn, members of the San Fernando chamber. E. P. Sanders and L. T. Rowley represented the Glendale chamber.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, the highway commission of the associated chambers made a report and stated, among other things, that the trucks hauling gravel out of Tujunga have been careless in loading, and were causing some damage to the pavement, and that they had reported this to the proper authorities, who had promised to look into the matter.

The associated chamber announced itself as ready to cooperate with Tujunga in the widening of the highway, providing that Tujunga has something definite to offer in the way of plans.

Prepare Road Maps

Mr. Holloway stated that he is having maps of the roads in the valley and the adjacent territory prepared and as soon as these are ready he will call a meeting and the different chambers will co-operate in planning future developments in boulevard construction, with a view to anticipating the increased traffic for several years and avoiding the necessity of having to take up the same problem again in a few years that is now facing the valley towns.

Dr. Gundrum recommended raising the dues of the chambers to $25. There was considerable debate on this question and no solution seemed forthcoming, as the members were divided on the question. Some were of the opinion that there were chambers in the association that were unable to pay the $25 and who could not be justly asked to do so. It was pointed out that some districts have larger memberships and it was the opinion of some that these chambers should pay a larger fee. Several plans were suggested, but none appeared to offer the correct solution until L. H. Fisher, secretary of the Tujunga Chamber, took the floor and in a few words solved the problem. His suggestion was that the dues of the chambers be made $25 per year, bringing in at the present time $275, as there are eleven chambers of commerce belonging to the associated chambers, and that should any unforeseen expense arise that the

Noted Pianist Seeks To Secure Divorce

Mrs. Leopold Stokowski

Mrs. Leopold Stokowski, noted pianist, known professionally as Mme. Last January she and the conductor agreed to a separation, stipulating that their baby, Sonia, born Christmas Day, 1921, should remain six months with each.

different chambers should subscribe to the best of their ability, thereby placing the bulk of the overdrift on the ones who could best stand it.

It was moved and carried that the secretary be authorized to notify the chambers of commerce of this plan in writing for their endorsement or rejection.

A resolution was adopted thanking the Southern Pacific Company for their prompt and courteous co-operation in capping wells that had been flowing over on property and doing considerable damage and the secretary was instructed to put this in writing and forward to the company.

Hyperion Boulevard

Mr. Barnes of the Santa Monica boulevard Association spoke briefly on the project of having a boulevard constructed along Hyperion avenue. He stated that this boulevard would be a direct route to the western part of the city and would connect directly with Glendale and the valley. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the Santa Monica Boulevard Association, endorsing the project.

Mrs. Bonnie Wilson, representative of the Monroe Doctrine Centennial Exposition to be held at Exposition Park in July, Los Angeles was present and extended an invitation to the associated chambers to be present and hold an exhibit at the time. This exposition is being held by the moving picture producers and the president of the United States will be present to open the exposition. The Commission of Honor is a space in the interior part of the grounds that has been reserved for municipalities and Mrs. Wilson invited the chambers to partake in the celebration. It was pointed out that this is an advertising feature fostered by the chamber of commerce of Los Angeles and the benefit to be derived from the publicity will be unlimited. Mr. Holloway stated that it was his opinion that all should unite and enter an exhibit in the Court of Honor, as there will be thousands of tourists here at the time.

A committee consisting of the president of each chamber was appointed to report on the amount of space to be reserved.

Favor Boulder Dam

Mr. Hodge of Mission Acres precipitated a storm of protest when he offered a resolution endorsing the Boulder Dam project, by which the city of Los Angeles proposed to develop more electricity. The protesting chamber, from Volney Craig who was emphatically and irrevocably opposed to the project, on the grounds that his taxes are high enough now and that the voting of the $35,000,000 additional bonds would make his taxes a burden he was unwilling to assume.

He spoke at some length, extolling the virtues of the Southern California Edison Company, and pointing out that they had done so much in bringing power into the valley.

Mr. McHugh, of Van Nuys, took exception to his statements and pointed out, on his side, that it was not the Edison company which had brought the lights to the valley and Mission Acres in particular, but the city of Los Angeles, and that the Edison company had been approached on this, and were not favorable to the plan until after the city had entered the field, as a competitor, at which time they were very willing to go to almost any length to secure the business. Mr. Hodge backed Mr. McHugh in his statements, and the discussion waxed warmer, but not fairer. Mr. Hodge pointed out that Mission Acres had been forced to go without lights until the city of Los Angeles had entered the field, and had immediately placed a power line through that territory.

Mr. Craig loudly declaimed in favor of the Edison company and stated that there were no lights at the present time at Mission Acres, and that the Edison company had been approached on this, and were not favorable to the plan until after the city had entered the field, as a competitor, at which time they were very willing to go to almost any length to secure the business.

Table Resolution
A motion was made by Wallace Morgan that the resolution be tabled, as irrelevant and outside the jurisdiction of that meeting. The roll was called, resulting in a discrepancy of the votes as counted by the two secretaries, one having a deadlock at ten all and cement the friendly relations that already exist between the two boards.

A decision was reached at the weekly luncheon of the board yesterday in the Harriet-Mae tea room on East Harvard street, to appoint a committee that will make a thorough investigation of the workings of the multiple listing system and see what can be done to secure closer co-operation of the members of the board in working by this method, as it is admitted that the results that have been obtained in many instances have not been fully up to the expectations of the board when the system was adopted.

May Raise Dues

The question of raising the yearly dues of the organization is also to be referred to the finance committee, with the object of raising the amount to be paid yearly, as it is felt that a higher membership fee would permit the board to eliminate the various assessments that are found at times to be necessary and also that this would bring sufficient money into the treasury to meet some of the demands that are constantly being made on the organization.

The publicity committee was authorized to make a three months' contract, at $20 a month, with Daily Dealings, a weekly publication, to advertise Glendale in a manner that would bring it to the attention of thousands of visitors to California from every section of the country.

A number of routine matters were taken up and disposed of during the meeting.

Detectives have been expected here for the past few days to take Carson, "Mrs. Carson" and possibly the second woman prisoner known as "Mrs. R. M. Young," back to Los Angeles.

Necessary extradition papers were mailed some time ago. The American minister, Franklin Morales, said he did not anticipate any hitch in the extradition proceedings. Already the president of Honduras has notified the American minister that the prisoners will be turned over to the American authorities when they present proper credentials.

Ask Supreme Court to Expedite Sugar Case

WASHINGTON, May 17.—In asking the United States supreme court on Monday to expedite the government's case against the New York sugar and coffee exchange, Solicitor-General James M. Beck, will charge that the conditions originally complained of still exist and that it is of "unusual public importance" that the case be expedited.

The other having ten against tabling and eleven for tabling the resolution. This necessitated a re-vote. In the meantime several of the members had left, wearied of the harangue. The second vote stood eleven for and seven against and the resolution was tabled.

The spirit of co-operation here in sight again and Judge Breidt brought the attention of the association back to the original question, that of the highway. The associated chambers adopted a resolution, approving the widening of the highway and expressing their willingness to co-operate in any way possible. It was agreed to appoint representatives from the valley to confer with the Highway Commission as to what form of construction would be advisable and procurable at the present time.

When he and Lieutenant MacReady, in their first attempt, were forced down at Indianapolis, Kelly vowed he'd succeed. In their next attempt they flew from New York to San Diego in twenty-seven hours, and Miss Watson was there to greet her fiancé. Mrs. MacReady, mother of the other flier, was worried only because she thought the soup "John" carried from New York wasn't as good as she would have made it.

Thaviu's Exposition Band will give a "Grand Closing Concert" tonight at 8 o'clock, under the big Ellison-White Chautauqua tent at the corner of Harvard and Orange streets.

In addition, tonight's program will feature grand opera singers in costume sketches, it is announced.

This afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Thaviu's band gave a popular concert. The feature of last night's program was Princess Te Ati, company of Indian performers. Jamie Heron, "the business men's poet," was also on the program, and gave a forceful speech, weaving into it a droll Scotch humor that was delightful.

GASSED VETERAN FALLS IN COURT

Liquor Case Defendant Is Rushed to Hospital For Treatment

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Suffering from the recurrence of illness resulting from being gassed during the World War, Louis Dudley, one of a score of defendants in the notorious Long Beach liquor ring case under investigation by federal authorities, collapsed as he was being led into court. He was rushed to the receiving hospital, where it was declared he was in a serious condition.

Dudley was to be arraigned with nine other alleged members of the Long Beach ring. Two were taken into court and rearrested on charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. All the defendants had been out on bond and were released on the same bonds following the new charges being filed against them today, with the exception of Jack Miller, reputed "king" of American bootleggers, whose bail was raised from $10,000 to $15,000.

INVITES CLUB TO MOUNTAIN HOME

Exchangeites Will Spend Week-end at Kelly's Place Near Hemet

The Glendale Exchange club set for its weekly luncheon yesterday noon in the Golden Spanish cafe at 111 South Orange street and discussed a number of matters.

An invitation from W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street at the club arrange to spend a week-end on his new holdings in the mountains near Hemet was received with interest. Dr. Warren Z. Newton of 121 North and boulevard, who recently went there fishing, expressed his opinion that the outing would be very enjoyable. A committee is appointed to recommend the date for this excursion.

Much amusement was provided by the raffling off of the advance prize. The revenue was used in the charity—no, the good-will fund. President D. J. Jackson drew the names of his new straw hat. The key card belonged to E. J. Smith of the Harrower Laboratory. The prize proved to be a shirt from the store at 135 1/2 North Brand boulevard operated by Exchangeite I. B. Carlock.

Tells of Fishing
The impossibility of finding a better stream to fish in than the Santa Ynez river was emphasized by Secretary James Howarth of Harrower Laboratory who returned last week from a short fishing trip.

"There are scores and scores of fish up there!" he exclaimed. "They have the finest trout you ever tasted."

President Jackson interrupted: "Hereafter, any statement that is made at this club as to where one has been or what one has been doing will have to have proof."

A motion was passed on the subject that any club member report a catch of fish and failing to produce reliable evidence should be fined. Mr. Howarth, therefore, was the first "victim."

Mr. Jim Belyea, of 111 East Broadway, chairman of the membership committee, reported that several applications had been received and would be acted upon in the near future.

Two Civic Matters
Only two matters of civic interest were brought up at the luncheon. One of them was the necessity of encouraging the widening and improvement of Los Angeles road from the southern city to the top of the hill and the other was the emphasizing of importance of obtaining a local center.

It is generally conceded that the Exchange club has done more to push the community center idea than any other organization in the city, said R. E. Johnston, 44 South San Fernando road, chairman of the civic committee. His sentiment seems to be popular now and this would be an incentive to push it.

Johnston suggested that a committee to purchase the high site for a community center would provide funds for the purchase of a junior high school elsewhere.

George Whitaker, of 400 East Broadway, made a motion, which carried, that the civic committee of the club should work out with the City and County Service. He emphasized the fact that each month and a delay increases the value of property that much more.

FLIGHT TO POLE MAY HAVE BEGUN

Explorer Amundsen Has Advanced Date of Start for Frozen North

SEATTLE, May 19.—Captain Roald Amundsen may have embarked already on his epochal attempt to fly "across the top of the world." Delayed radio reports, received here today from Kotzebue, Alaska, via Nome, announce that Amundsen has changed his original plans and will make his flight this month instead of next and that he left Kotzebue for Wainwright nearly three weeks ago to start the trip.

This means that it is entirely possible that Amundsen has already hopped off—but definite news may not be received for weeks. If he successfully negotiates his flight to Spitzbergen, the world will be advised of it within a few minutes of his landing, as Spitzbergen is in wireless communication with numerous other countries. But if he fails—and failure would mean inevitable death—it may be a month or more before anyone learns of it, as Wainwright is a good month away from civilization.

WILL ESTABLISH TRAINING CAMPS

Young Men to Have Period Of Military Work in July and August

Through Citizens' Military Training Camps at Del Monte and Fort Winfield Scott July 26 to August 24, the gospel of good health through right living will be spread by the War Department. Colonel Ernesto V. Smith, chief of staff, 91st Division, Presidio of San Francisco, announces. As a result 1,000 young Californians will be better fitted for civil life when they leave camps, he says.

The unfit man is hampered in his vocation, whether it is civilian or military, in exact proportion to the degree of his disability. Colonel Smith asserts "there is not the slightest doubt that one of the most vital needs of the American people today is that of preventing the development or staying the progress of organic diseases."

"A sound body is the basic requirement for good health. Physical examination of more than four million young men during the World War shows the great need of universal knowledge of the rules of health and right living—knowledge which the training camps in California this year will help to broadcast. Fifty-one per cent of 2,150,000 drafted men between the ages of 18 and 30 during the war showed mental or physical defects and 21 out of every 100 were physically or mentally unfit for any military service."

Lessons in Health
According to Colonel Smith, these facts indicate the general effects on the health of the nation of neglect, ignorance and poor social conditions. From the moment of his arrival at camp until his departure, the California youth this summer will be given all the benefit of expert training and instruction to teach right thinking and right living, military authorities say.

Young men between 17 and 24 years who want to attend the camps, which are free, should send inquiries at once to Headquarters 91st Division, Presidio of San Francisco.

Urges Saint's Image For Auto Cap Crest

PARIS, May 17.—Every motor car racecourse should have its statue of St. Christopher, the patron saint of sportsmen, on the radiator cap, says the Duchess d'Uzes, who has given her approval of a design which is being turned out here by the tens of thousands to be ready for summer tourists.

Larger figures in the same design are to be used in decoration of the new sportsmen's church on the road from Paris to Versailles, where the trees will show St. Christopher giving a helping hand to aviators, cross-country runners, jockeys, motorists and alpinists.

Christopher was a Syrian martyr of the third century, renowned for his prodigious feats of strength.

P. E. SUBWAY UP TO L. A. VOTERS

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—The voters of Los Angeles will decide at the final municipal election on June 5 whether the Pacific Electric Railway Company shall have the right to construct a subway terminal under Pershing Square, in the heart of the downtown section.

The City Council has voted to submit this issue to the people after City Attorney Stephens ruled it was "feasible and proper" that the issue be decided by the people.

The Pershing Square subway proposal was first advocated by the city planning commission and received the endorsement of several influential civic organizations.

Medieval History Is Presented in Verse

PARIS, May 17.—Six hundred pages of twelfth century history is being condensed down into thirty pages of verse in a dinky Paris studio by Eza Pound. It is to be called, says Mr. Pound, "Malatesto Cantos," and provides an accurate story of the characters of that period obtained after several months of research in Italy.

"Not that I think the poetical quality of my verse will be any better for being historically accurate," declares the poet. "As a matter of fact, nobody would know if it were not, as that particular period does not happen to have been studied before. I want my work, however, like Dante's version of the Paolo Francesca story, to withstand all historical criticism."

The poet hopes to complete his work early in June.

GRINNELL, Iowa, May 17.—If a husband wants to be happy with a Grinnell College co-ed he must be of the cave-man type, according to the answers of the girls at the Quadrangle, college dormitory, to the question, "What sort of man do you wish for a husband?"

The Thrift of Annie

TODAY'S SHORT STORY

BY Ad
Schuster

Annie was older than the other waitresses and, in a quieter way, better looking. She was efficient, hard-working and business-like, the only one who gave the manager no trouble.

Tom Lyons, old-time customer, looked at the gruff manager and at the girl who waited to take his order.

"Wonder to me," he said, "why you stay in this place. You could be a head waitress, cashier, or manager. You are not like the other girls."

Annie gave him a puzzling smile. "Maybe it is because I am thrifty. I do not quit one job before I have another. Will you have your eggs fried or poached?"

The Quick Meal was not the place Tom would have chosen had it not been for his poverty and Annie. Tom was earning enough to make a living and that was all. At the restaurant he spent as much time as he could over his meals, and rejoicing in the chance to talk to this girl who could not guess she was his only feminine friend.

"It is discouraging," he told himself one evening when he fingered the dollar which must last him until the pay checks were handed out next day. "Here am I the only nephew of Timothy Lyons and, by all accounts, his sole heir. There is a half million all ready to be turned over to me when Uncle Tim dies, and while he lives I do not get a cent. Not that I want him to support me, but it is a funny system."

Tom had not thought much concerning this subject before. Now he was interested in Annie. He told himself he wished to get her out of the restaurant into a place where she could earn more and put her level head to use. Of course he was not in love with her. And yet—maybe it was because she was the only girl he knew. She was in his mind most of the time.

Annie wondered where Tom had gone during that week, and more when he was called to Wardtown by the news of Uncle Timothy's death. In her mind there was no doubt. She knew she loved Tom, and, moreover, she was certain he felt the same.

"It's because he is so poor he doesn't dare speak," Annie told herself. "We must wait until he gets a better job unless I can make him find his tongue." And Annie smiled as if at a surprise she had in store.

When Tom came back he made inquiries concerning the restaurant and, ready for triumph, entered the place. This time he approached the gruff manager with assurance.

"I wish Miss Annie to wait upon me," he announced.

"You do?" growled the man.

"Oh my!"

Tom looked at the fellow's insolent grin and remembered many occasions when it had appeared before. He shoved a card under the man's face, swelled his chest and remarked with a great effort to make it casual:

"I just bought this place. Maybe you have not been informed."

A table was set on the mezzanine floor and a wondering Annie approached.

"It's you!" she gasped. "How did you make him set a table up here?"

"Listen, Annie. I want you to be cashier of this place. No, I want you to manage it. You're too good for a cashier and you have the ability." He watched her flushed face. Annie was struggling with a number of emotions, beautiful and perplexed.

"On third thought," said Tom understanding at last the reason for his interest in the girl, "I want you to get out of here—to marry me! I have enough so we can get along."

A little later Annie looked up. "I will be willing to risk our getting along. You see, I thought maybe—well, maybe you would say something, and so I—well, I raised all of $8,000."

"Raised it? How?"

"By selling the restaurant. It has been mine. The agent telephoned to me today he sold it."

"Why didn't you tell me? Why did you work as a waitress?"

"I wanted to be on the floor to see that things were going right. No one could complain without my knowing it and no one could cheat me. I only kept the manager because he was honest, and I didn't tell you because—well, because I knew you were poor and I didn't want you to know I was rich. You see," Annie stammered, "I thought you might be afraid to propose to me."

Tom shouted aloud. "And it was I who bought the restaurant. Gave you $8,000 for it, too." He regarded her tenderly.

"And you were going to use the money to start us in housekeeping? You won't have to now, but it shows—"

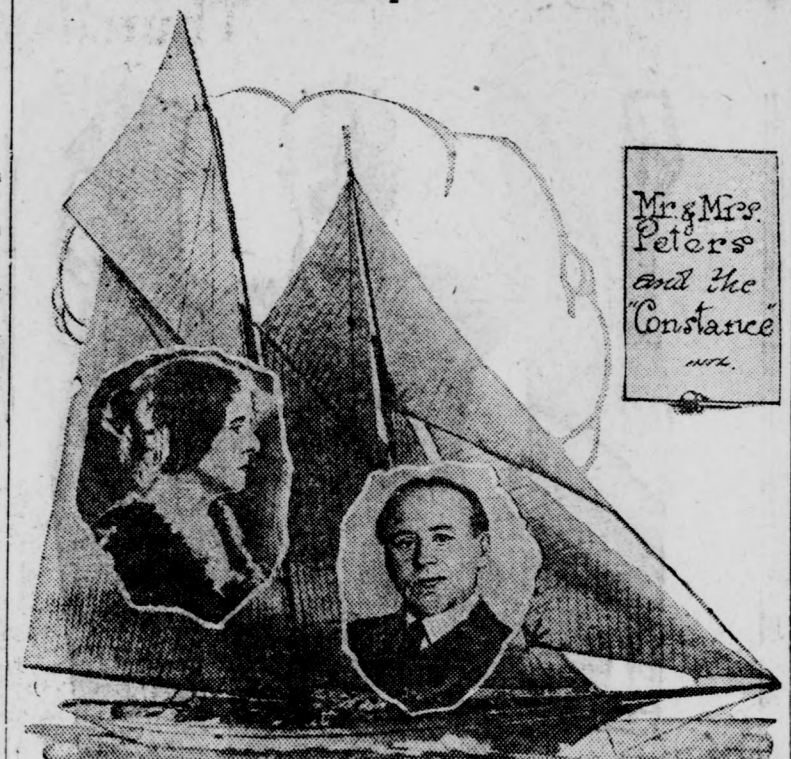

"That I am going to be a thrifty wife."

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. B.—I have had many requests, including yours, to reprint the corn remedy that I gave. I also have many letters stating that it was very effective. So here it is again:

Corn Remedy
Salicylic acid, 1 dram (about a level teaspoonful).
Flexible collodion, 1 ounce.
Ten grains cannabiss indica may be added to relieve pain.

The salicylic acid has the power of softening hardened cuticle and is usually the medicament in the corn remedies on sale. Soak the feet and then apply the solution night and morning for three to six days. Then soak the feet again in hot water softened with soda, a teaspoonful to the quart of water. By this time the corn can be detached.

This, however, will not take away the layer of skin from which the corn grew. Nothing will do that but an operation. So the corn may grow again if there is pressure, and sometimes if there is moisture. If you are troubled with corns, perhaps your shoes are not fitted properly. A width wider might remedy the pressure.

For soft corns soak the foot in hot water with a teaspoonful of baking soda to the quart. Gently dig out the core with a knife (the blade of which has been passed through a flame two or three times to sterilize it) and then put a big pinch of boric acid powder or ordinary baking soda between the toes. Keep them separated preferably with a little wad of lamb's wool. Absorbent cotton distributing the gathers around the frame to suit your own taste. Then sew it fast, and cover the raw edges with gill-braid which measures about one-half inch in width. The next step is lining the shade. The lining is put on plain sections the same size as the space between the lengthwise wires; sew the sections together and put braid over the seams, as well as at the extreme top and extreme bottom of the lining. Your shade is now finished—unless you wish to add a two-inch-deep gilt or silk fringe at the bottom, to make it still prettier.

BEAUTY CHATS

NEW BEAUTY RECIPES

From one of my prize possessions, a book of beauty formulas for the trade, I have selected the following recipes which I think some of my readers may like to make up. The original formulas call for large quantities, since the stuff is to be made in bulk, but I have reduced the formulas so the amount made will be only enough for one person's use.

Frangipani Sachet Powder
This is reminiscent of 18th century novels and the beaux and belles in hoop skirts and powdered wigs, when frangipani was the only smart perfume and fabulously expensive.

Mix together violet root powder seven and a half ounces; patchouli leaves, one-half ounce; sandal wood, one-half ounce; and two drops each of neroli oil, rose oil, santal wood oil. This is all mixed together, the oil being absorbed by the powder.

Milk of Roses
This is a delicious mixture for rubbing on the face or hands when they are chapped or dry. It is bleaching and healing and has great virtues in keeping the skin smooth and soft.

One-quarter ounce of castile soap is dissolved in an ounce of rose-water kept moderately heated. To one-quarter ounce of white wax and one-quarter ounce of spermaceti are added and the whole heated until they just melt and blend. Four ounces of almond milk is added, the whole thing being well stirred. This is dissolved in a pint of alcohol if you want a thick mixture, a pint and a half if you want a thin one. Several drops of rose oil are added later. This will give you two or three large bottles.

Hair Wash
The white of one egg beaten to a froth mixed with 50 grammes of water, 30 of ammonia and shaken well with 15 of eau de Cologne.

Self-Conscious—A general reduction would improve your figure and give you an appearance of having more height. This is much better than to try to reduce the size of your limbs only.

A. B. C.—When the hair splits on the ends it comes from a lack of scalp secretion causing the hair to dry out. Clip off those ends regularly, as the splitting continues up through the whole length of the hair if left. This dryness may also account for your hair losing its color. Massage a little oil into the scalp the night before you shampoo, and massage the scalp some every day; in addition to which add a good tonic several times each week.

Make Your Mother is quite right in saying that you will soon outgrow awkwardness. Most little girls at 16 feel just as you do, and then get over it very quickly, taking on grace of movement and poise at the same time.

Side Talks

by Ruth Cameron

BY BEING HAPPY

There are two ways of being of help in this world. One is by Doing something. The other is by Being something.

Some people, of course, help both ways, but that is too much to expect of everyone.

I have met a woman recently who seemed to me, at first, in no way to earn her place in the sun. She is married, but has no children. She does not keep house. She does not sew, does not do any but the most casual reading, does not do any social work, or club work, or philanthropic work. She does not even go in for society.

She simply plays around with her friends, shops, chats over the telephone, goes down town for afternoon tea, dines with her husband and then helps him fool the evening away.

Like a Parasite
At first it seemed to me as if this woman were a thoroughgoing social parasite, taking everything and giving nothing. But as I grew to know her I found that she did give something.

Because she did not spend her energy in any way she was full of vitality and "pep," and because it was her natural disposition, she was full of gaiety. And, just by being this way she vitalized everyone with whom she came into contact.

Her husband adored her. He would sink back wearily in his chair when he came home from work and listen to her as she effervesced over some of her day's experiences. For a time he would say almost nothing. Then gradually he would seem to become recharged with energy from the battery of her vitality and begin to throw a word here and there into the conversation.

Appealed to Men
Both men and women liked her. Her attraction for men was difficult to understand until I realized her charm for them was not pretty. She had no figure at all, was not witty or fascinating. But she charmed them in the same way she did her husband, by her vigor and her gaiety.

She was always quick to laugh heartily at their feeblest jokes, she was always kind hearted and sympathetic, she was always ready to go anywhere or do anything—motor, walk, dance. And she was always happy. Never any cynicism, any mood of depression, any anxiety or irritability. Just happiness, gaiety and light heartedness.

Double Honors Due
Of course the world could not afford too many of these people.

The shades of electric drop-lights in the living room and dining room must be more or less formal in design, and dignified in color, to be in good taste. But the bedroom lamp shade—that is a different matter! The bedroom lamp shade may be as frilly and as frivolous and as colorful as you please.

I recently helped a friend to make one for the bedroom, and I am going to tell you about it. Her room has a color scheme of lavender and yellow, the yellow being very little sunshine, the lavender note in the color scheme brightens it wonderfully. Its walls are covered with light yellow oatmeal paper (unfigured), and yellow-and-lavender floral cretonne is used as overdrapes at the windows.

The old-fashioned four-poster bed has an "unbleached muslin spread on it with a floral design in the center consisting of pieces of lavender and yellow chambray linen applied into the muslin. A glass candlestick with a lavender candle stands on the chiffonier. A yellow pottery pin tray makes a pretty flash of color among the silver toilet articles on the dressing table. And on the floor lie lavender-and-gray braided rag rugs.

I have described this color scheme for the purpose of showing why we chose lavender and yellow for the shade of the bedside drop-light. I happened to have some lavender China silk which would do for the shirred outer covering of the shade, and my friend had some yellow crepe de chine which was just the right thing for the lining of the shade. We bought a wire frame and covered it as follows:

To Cover a Wire Lamp Shade
Frame: Wind every inch of the wire with cotton binding tape; this gives a good foundation to the shade-covering onto.

Measure the shade from top to bottom and cut a long strip of silk the same width. Gather this strip at top and bottom and pin the gathered piece onto the frame.

MYSTIC SMILERS
IN NEW QUARTERS

Organization's Growth Calls for Larger Rooms to Care for Members

The removal of the Mystic Smilers club rooms to large and comfortable quarters in Dr. E. H. Thompson's building, at the corner of Orange Grove avenue and Fernando boulevard, calls attention to the remarkable growth of this organization.

On the night of July 20, 1922, even young men gathered around a table at the Edgar Hart home, corner of Third street and Verdugo avenue, founding the Order of the Mystic Smiles as a social branch of the Comets' Class Club of the Sunday school of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

There the by-laws and constitution of the order were drawn, and the former the following: Each member state will never be removed.

To join the Order of the Mystic Smiles, young men between the ages of nineteen and forty are required to attend the Sunday school class of their church four days and commit to the membership committee of the order a letter from their pastor stating that they have attended day school the required times and are ready for complete initiation for eligibility to join order.

Add More Members
In spite of the doubts of pessimists, the Order of the Mystic Smiles has grown enormously, and today similar chapters have started in Long Beach and Santa Barbara, while calls have been received for chapters in La Monica and Vernon.

Members of the order feel that movement during the next years will sweep over the country, as there is no other organization in the world with a unique by-law as the above noted in its list of qualifications for membership.

The power for Sunday school session contained in the basic back of the Order of the Mystic Smiles is tremendous, and members and educators feel. In the Sunday school, where movement started, membership has grown in the last year six to forty. And in Long Beach and Santa Barbara rapid growth has already been observed.

It has been found advisable to associate the order from the Sunday school and to all of its greater growth. That by the headquarters of the order of the Mystic Smiles have removed to their present home in Dr. Thompson's office, the purpose of the organization is given as an effort "to seek the lonely, disheartened and build up around him a happy, social environment which will help him to develop real character, poise and kindness."

Order of the Mystic Smiles that no Christian man or woman can deny the young man's confidence to the continued leadership of people of Burbank vicinity.

Million Stamps
A. Bucci, a retired priest and pastor of a Los Angeles church for a number of years, and owns twenty acres of land at the Crossing, is erecting a full rock structure that will contain sixteen rooms, one of a private chapel.

Perhaps the most novel feature of the large dwelling is that the and ceilings of two of the are to be papered with can-stamps, many of them from a collection.

Bucci has been collecting stamps for thirty years and states it will take his entire fortune of a million to cover all and ceilings of the two will arrange the stamps in, he says, working out of the and Italian flags. The stamps will be on a heavy-board and be removed.

UNDERWOOD'S HAT
READY FOR RING

Alabama Senator to Open
Fight for Nomination
For Presidency

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, May 17.—The first Democratic hat to be checked off in the 1924 presidential ring will belong to Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama.

According to word being passed around in Democratic circles in the capital today, the Alabama himself will do the checking, formally and officially, when he returns from Europe next month. If he does not, then his friends will do it for him, it was said.

Underwood's candidacy, long discussed in Democratic quarters, is already beginning to take on tangible form, particularly in the big eastern and northern states, where it is felt that he will carry a special appeal because of the liberality of his views on the prohibition issue.

Diligent friends of Senator Underwood have approached the Democratic leaders in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois and several other states sounding out opinion. They have been informed, it is understood, that if it develops the favorite sons, such as Smith in New York and Edwards in New Jersey, have no chance, then the delegates of these states will be very favorably inclined toward the Alabama.

The algebraic X in the calculations of Senator Underwood's boosters is Henry Ford.

Disturbed by Ford
Friends of Senator Underwood, already busily engaged in promoting his candidacy, profess to fear other men in the party—not even William Gibbs McAdoo, McAdoo, the Underwood men say, mustered his full strength in San Francisco in 1920, and it was not enough. Underwood adherents shake their heads over Ford.

Such an experienced political observer as Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, unidentified with any political candidacy, has returned to Washington with the prediction that if Ford enters the Democratic primaries he will carry every state in the south with the possible exception of Senator Underwood's own Alabama.

If Ford enters the Democratic race, experienced political rail birds foresee a three-cornered fight between Ford, Underwood and McAdoo that will be comparable to the Republican contest waged in the Chicago convention three years ago between Lowden, Wood and Johnson—with the inevitable dark horse being groomed on the sidelines.

There will be at least a dozen "favorite sons" movements in full swing within six months, according to predictions here.

ASK HUGHES FOR BUSINESS PACTS

Trade Associations Seek to Secure Arbitration to Aid Commerce

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, May 17.—Negotiation of a series of commercial treaties between the United States and principal nations of the world, providing for the settlement of business disputes by arbitration.

At the same time Secretary of Commerce Hoover is backing a nationwide campaign to eliminate expensive court litigation and other causes of delay in adjustment of commercial differences by insertion of an arbitration clause in all business contracts.

According to official statistics the annual waste in perishable goods in this country, occasioned by court and other litigation, amounts to more than a billion dollars a year. Losses in other materials and in disputes over goods shipped in foreign trade are estimated to more than double that sum.

ORGANIZE GUILD
TO AID CHILDREN

College Women's Club to Form Auxiliary Here
to Help Cripples

"A Better Mind in a Better Body" is the goal towards which Dr. Charles LeRoy Lowman and his assistants strive in handling each of their children patients over at the Orthopaedic Hospital-School at 2400 South Flower street in Los Angeles, and Glendale is to have a share in their endeavors, because, in addition to the individual Glendaleans contributing to the welfare and happiness of the little patients, an auxiliary of the Crippled Children's guild is being organized in Glendale, and the College Women's club of Glendale is making definite plans for taking part in the hospital work.

Other local interests in the hospital was recently expressed in the transportation of a group of the crippled children to and from the hospital to the society circus given in Praeger park as a benefit for the hospital. Through the efforts of Mrs. S. A. Willis of 908 South Central avenue, Glendale, the aid of Glendaleans was enlisted and Dr. Lowman and his assistants are heartily grateful to James Amphlett of North Central avenue; G. G. Merrick of East Harvard street; and W. L. Glimm of the Walter Leimert company.

Just what form the College Women's work for the hospital will take has not been definitely decided. Decision to take some part was made at the club meeting last Saturday and definite plans are to be formulated at the meeting in June. While the beginning work will be on a small scale it is the ultimate aim of the college women to purchase a bed and probably furnish and maintain a room in the hospital.

Hope is Inspired
There is not a visitor to the hospital or clinic, whose heart is not touched by the countless crippled children and anxious-faced parents whom one sees on every hand journeying to Dr. Lowman, or Dr. R. H. Pyles, plastic surgeon, or some other member of the hospital staff for help. However, this feeling of pity is entirely overcome by a feeling of hope inspired by the countless little patients, happily enjoying the sunshine of the hospital grounds or enjoying work in the handwork room while regaining health and becoming normal children.

The Orthopaedic Hospital-school represents a little over two years of devoted striving on the part of Dr. Lowman and his assistants and friends, who have restored many hundreds of crippled children to health, happiness and normal lives.

Visitors are most courteously received in all departments of the hospital-school, where they will see countless good reasons for the advice of Dr. Lowman, who says, "Do not pity a crippled child, help all you can to bring the child out of its pitiable condition."

EAGLE ROCK

PLAYERS PRESENT
POPULAR COMEDY

Booth Tarkington Play Is Given by Eagle Rock
Amateur Talent

"Clarence," the Booth Tarkington comedy of youth and adolescence that has proved so popular in New York and elsewhere, was produced last night by the Eagle Rock Community Players, under the direction of Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer, in the auditorium of the Central school, at 8 o'clock.

The play was very well produced and enthusiastically received by a large audience, proving once again that this organization of amateur players is an exceedingly capable one.

The performance of Arvid Lunde as Clarence and Anna May Monroe as Della, were particularly good, and Esther Smith as Mrs. Martyn and Frederick Beach as Dinwiddle did noteworthy work.

But, indeed, everyone in the cast was excellent, and it is a certainty that the Community Players of Eagle Rock will be a real asset to the dramatic talent of Los Angeles, following annexation.

Tonight Louis Chandler will play Clarence and Wilda Bowlsby will play Della. Other changes will be noted in the cast of characters, in order of appearance, which follows:

Mrs. Martyn.....Esther Smith
Mrs. Wheeler.....Samuel Ratliff
Mrs. Wheeler.....Elsie Davis Koen
Bobby Wheeler.....Harwin Mann
Corra Wheeler.....Marion Lerchen
Violet Pinney.....Ruth Mason
Clarence.....Louis Chandler
Della.....Wilda Bowlsby
Dinwiddle.....Frederick Beach
Hubert Stem.....Edmund Brady

The furniture for the play is loaned by the Eagle Rock Furniture & Hardware Company, the store by the Eagle Rock Music Store, and the saxophone by Clayton Schuler.

Rugs, draperies and other needed properties are being loaned by local organizations and individuals imbued with the community service idea, which stresses service and is unselfish in its application.

Occidental Play
"Hold the Line" is the title of a musical comedy produced last night in Franklin hall, Occidental College, by the Alumni Association, under the direction of Hazel Bisset Stevens.

The curtain rose at 8:15 o'clock, and for the next two hours everyone in the audience had a thoroughly enjoyable time, the play proving to be well put on and intrinsically interesting.

Lawrence Cook is the author of "Hold the Line." The music is by Ethel Ward Johnson. Ed Turner, of 118 East Park avenue, Glendale, who recently bought through Hayward & McCarty the northeast corner of East Colorado boulevard and Castle avenue, for $20,000, plans the construction of a one-story brick building on the premises, to suit the tenant.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, of South Ellis avenue, have returned to their home in Peru, Ind., after spending the winter here. On the return trip they will stop at San Francisco, Salt Lake and other points.

Mrs. R. M. DePierro, of 304 West Myrtle avenue, will entertain at dinner tomorrow night, May 18, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Baxter, of Los Angeles. Mrs. Baxter is Winifred Bryson, of filmdom.

Notes and Personals
Mrs. W. A. Farr, of Long Beach, has been visiting at the home of Dr. J. F. Scott, 115 North Satsuma avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dunlap, of Siam, were recent guests of Mrs. Clara McKee and family, of Woodrow avenue. Dr. Dunlap is at the head of the Theological Training School, at Bangkok.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMackin and family are leaving early in June for their home in Springfield, Mo., by auto. They will spend two months there and plan to bring two families back with them to Eagle Rock, where they will locate permanently.

Mrs. I. O. Kemble, of 211 West Colorado boulevard, entertained on Monday, May 14, the local chapter of the P. E. O.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, of East Park avenue, have been entertaining relatives from San Pedro.

Eagle Rock is "Homeland." Let's make it "Dahlia City." Plant now!

Dempsey Holds Gibbons as Dangerous Foe in Coming Battle

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 17.—"Tommy Gibbons is a dangerous fighter, but I am an excellent one and will be in fine fettle on the day of our battle and will surely retain my title."

Thus declared Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, who is in Great Falls today preparing to get down to hard training for his championship fight with Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul at Shelby on July 4.

Dempsey arrived here two days advance of original plans amid fanfare of bands and wild cheering on the part of nearly half the 5,000 population of this city.

Dempsey, looking bronzed and hardened from his brief outdoor work in Dempsey City, Utah, told international News Service that Gibbons is the only logical opponent for a heavyweight championship battle and that the challenge of a string of successive knockouts mark him a dangerous rival.

Will Reduce Weight
"I feel fine," declared Dempsey, who weighs only 190 pounds, but came to Great Falls early in order to get down to hard training immediately. I will clip five pounds off my present weight five days before the fourth of July."

Dempsey declared he would employ none but capable sparring partners, saying he wants to train with men who have the ability "sock him on the jaw."

The champion said he would be more than twenty good boxes in his camp within a few days, following the arrival of Manager K. Hearn.

Dempsey would not discuss any sible bouts after the Independence day battle.
"Wait until I lick Gibbons," he said. "You know I am always dy to fight."

Gibbons Dangerous
Dempsey stated that Billy Ke was the only man that he fought whom Gibbons had also defeated. "Gibbons and Mike had battles with varying results," he said. "But I knocked Gibbons, with his twenty-three knockouts behind him, is a powerful fighter, and I am going into July battle with earnestness," Dempsey asserted. "I am physically in splendid condition and in a few days will be right on top. I will have no difficulty in picking five pounds off in the forthcoming bout. I will be against a man of practically own weight with a record that I be seriously considered."

Dempsey was the guest of State Senator Tom Walker, of Butte, at dinner here last night.

Commander Owsley Scores Dempsey's War Record in Statement
DIANAPOLIS, May 17.—The Dempsey-Gibbons Fourth of July at Shelby, Mont., does not have the sanction of the American Legion, National Commander Owsley declared in a statement issued here.

Owsley said that he holds no enmity for Dempsey but its members cannot afford to believe that the heavyweight champion remained safe in the ship in America while the finest of our nation were advancing on the battlefields of Europe.

It's the Best

In The Spotlight Of Sport

By Wood Cowan

On board S.S. "President Roosevelt," U. S. Lines.

Tennis, like golf, has seldom been thought of as a water sport. When you think of the stuff that runs under bridges your skull registers Three Star or swimming or fishing, but certainly never tennis.

No one ever laid claim to the title of "Ocean Tennis Champion," but we are going to confer the crown on Francis Hunter, who, we claim, can trim 'em all at "deck tennis."

Hunter was placed ninth on the national ranking list in men's singles, but he has the edge on most of the net boys at sea because of his experience at the game during his service in the navy, as lieutenant on a dreadnought, slanting, heaving, plunging decks hold no terrors for this smashing racket-wielder. Others may be made a little dizzy or hollow headed by the unsteady underfooting, but this ex-gob is always in form when it comes to sea-legs.

The story goes that when the U. S. fleet took its place beside the British during the war, Admiral Beatty who prides himself on his "deck tennis" game, heard that there was a young American officer who could swing a wicked racket. Beatty sounded out Admiral Rodman, the commander of the American squadron, about the crown on Francis Hunter, and with the result that the young lieutenant received orders to make ready to play some tennis aboard a British man-of-war.

The admiral, he said, put up a brave fight against the American's murderous strokes. Hunter ran the old officer until his ankles smoked, letting him take a few games as a matter of policy, and later raced through the whole British fleet, winning most of his matches in straight sets.

Hunter's defeat of Gerald Patterson, last summer at the Sea Bright tournament, put him in the tennis hall of fame. His smashing backhand and forehand drives, that carry the full power of his sturdy frame, were too much for the Australian.

Tennis on shipboard is played within a net enclosure on deck. While the court may be a trifle smaller, it struck us, the same rules are followed as in the regulation game.

With your Uncle Sam leading all the world at the net game, it is not surprising that he has fitted his liners with paraphernalia for the deck brand of tennis. And let me say that the fan who doesn't include his favorite racket as a part of his traveling equipment for a sea voyage, will kick himself all the way across the big pond for his folly.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The University of California track and field team will again compete in the Intercollegiate track and field championships at Cambridge, Mass., this year. The men from the California University have twice in succession won the national collegiate championship and are anxious to make it a three straight victory this year.

It will be an unusual team that competes at the meet at Cambridge this year. As a general rule a college sends a team equally balanced in track events and in field events. The California team will be the most lopsided team in this respect probably that any American college has ever entered in a meet. The surprising part of the makeup of the team of thirteen men is the fact that there will be only two track men and the other eleven will enter the field events. Bert Saxby, the best quarter-mile at California, and Al Becker, the hurdler, are the only men for track events that have been named. Neither is capable of winning either the quarter or the hurdles, but Coach Walter Christie must have an idea in his mind that both ladies can at least secure a place in their events and thereby add points to the final total.

In the recent meet with Stanford the California won by a score that appropriated two to one, and yet the Stanford men, and easily outclassed California in the track events. In this department of a track team California undoubtedly has the greatest aggregation of field event men that any college in the country has possessed at one time. If California wins the Intercollegiate national title it will be solely due to the field men.

"Red" Norris, two times national intercollegiate pole-vaulter, heads the list. Then there is the internationally famous "Brick" Muller, who can do several other things besides high jumping.

Five men will be entered in the shot-put, and at least two of them are figured to be one two and possibly another place may be secured. The four shot-putters are Neufeldt, Lang, Witter, and Shews and Sorrenti, and all of them can put the shot better than forty-six feet.

"Brick" Muller, who placed second in last year's discus, is again on deck and will be assisted by Neufeldt, Lang and Witter. The first two being good for a least 135 feet. In the javelin Sorrenti, Neufeldt and Peterson are entered, and all are capable of better than 165 feet, with the first man holding a competition record of 197 feet. In the broad jump California will depend on Muller, Born and Troyer, and all of them are expected to place.

California supporters believe that this team has a chance to secure at least forty points, and that will probably be large enough to win the team title.

Fifteen title events carrying the Southern California championship in various aquatic events have been awarded to Coronado Tent City to be completed for various dates during the summer by the local branch of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Included in the list are the following events: 100 yard dash for men, 200, 440 and 800 yard freestyle swims; 150 yard back stroke, 220 yard breast stroke, 10 foot board and high diving.

For women, 50, 100, 220, 400 and 880 yard swims, 100 yard breast stroke and 440 yard relay races. William Kyle, chairman of the swimming committee of the San Diego branch of the A. A. U., will have supervision over the events.

Whatever may be Jess Willard's condition, at least all the elements of uncertainty seem to exist in connection with his match against Floyd Johnson in New York on May 12. A perusal of the various opinions expressed by the different sports writers shows them to be about equally divided as to their opinion as to who will be returned the ultimate winner. Those who favor Johnson are banking largely on the fact that he is the younger man and that he has been actively at work in the ring while Willard probably has lost his recuperative powers through long absence as well as his eye for distance.

On the other hand, those who favor the ex-champion figure largely on his great bulk, the fact that they consider he is licking himself back into physical condition and the assumption that he still carries a powerful wallop. Johnson is no fistic marvel and this probably accounts for the fact that the general impression seems to be that whichever man wins, both contestants will be on their feet when the final gong calls the finish of the bout.

George Ritchie who won the Northern California amateur golf champion a few days ago for the second successive year, is an out and out product of the San Francisco sand lots and picked up his knowledge of the game while acting as a caddy on the municipal links. It is only a few years since he was running around in knee breeches. Ritchie has been improving his game steadily in the last three years and it is more than likely that he will be heard from more than locally in the course of a very few years. At the present time he had not had sufficient tournament play to enter any of the blue ribbon events of national import and his friends have wisely advised him not to be too precipitate in the matter of going too far afield until he is more seasoned. He still is in his teens and has plenty of time ahead of him.

Golfers Battle In Driving Snowstorm

LEEDS, May 17.—Playing the last two holes in a driving snow storm that chilled to the bone and leaving his hands so stiff they could scarcely grasp a club, Walter Hagen of New York, British open champion, scored a 73, 74—147 in the qualifying round of the Yorkshire News golf tournament today. Hagen drove well but experienced difficulties with the speedy greens.

Gene Sarazen, the American open champion, also had his troubles, but pulled himself together in time to come in with a card 75, 76—151.

Judge Wilson and Arthur Havers, British experts, topped the field for the qualifying medal, having a total of 143 each.

Charles Hoffner, another American entry, had a score of 76, 80—156, and is likely to be unplaced in the qualifying round.

Monroe Doctrine Centennial
Coins Bring Premium
For Charities

Several thousand of the Monroe Doctrine Centennial fifty cent pieces have been received by The First National Bank of Los Angeles and the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, it was announced yesterday, and the two Glendale branches of the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank have also received a liberal supply for distribution.

The coins will be sold to the public at one dollar each. The money received from the premium will go to charities designated by the motion picture industry under whose auspices the American Historical Revue and Industrial Exposition will be held beginning July 2 next, at Exposition park, Los Angeles.

The celebration is in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the Monroe Doctrine.

There will be 300,000 of the memorial half dollars put into circulation under authority of congress. The centennial coin was designed by a California sculptor, Chester Beach. The heads of Monroe and Adams are on the obverse side and on the reverse side against the outline map of North and South America. North America is shown in the form of a draped figure holding the laurel of peace and reaching to South America, also symbolized as a draped figure.

The two Glendale branches have been supplied with a quantity of the centennial coins with which to meet any public demand.

TRIANGLE OF HUMAN HEARTS

Judge Called Upon To Act In Role Of Solomon

Mrs. James Nuttall, Mrs. James Morris & Alice

For eleven years little Alice thought Mrs. James Nuttall, of Chicago, was her real mother, and she loved her as such. Then, after a long search, the child's real mother, Mrs. James Morris, who had had to give up the care of the girl in infancy to a founding asylum, from which Mrs. Nuttall took her, found her. A Chicago judge has been called upon to render a "judgment of Solomon" and give the child to the real mother or the foster-mother, both of whom love her dearly.

PICKS GIRLS FOR FOLLIES CHORUS

Beauties From Every Corner
Of U. S. Parade Before
Ziegfeld's Expert

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
For International News Service
NEW YORK, May 17.—Beauty's annual spring rush to Broadway has begun.

Five thousand girls, some of them America's prettiest, are hopefully trudging Broadway today, all aiming at the same goal—to "make" the Ziegfeld Follies. They have come from almost every state in the Union, eager, ambitious, imaginative—a few destined to fame, the majority to disappointment.

All of them, in time, will face that internationally famous judge of feminine pulchritude, Ned Wayburn, who "picks them" for Ziegfeld.

An empty theatre, seventy girls, an orchestra, a reporter and Wayburn. Time, unromantic afternoon. Girls of all types, blondes, brunettes, and what not, all dressed lightly for the occasion. Wayburn is selecting from his second batch of prospects.

Seventy Prospects
Of the first batch of seventy, only one girl—Winifred Shannon, sixteen, red haired, brown eyed, pert and piquant—suited the "expert picker." And Winifred came all the way from Pine Bluff, Ark.

Wayburn casts a swift, albeit kindly, eye over the assemblage of buds from many Main streets. That single glance kills the chances of at least ten.

The music starts, quietly. Miss Kansas City is asked to walk, to strut. She does, in her fetching one-piece bathing suit, and one is surprised on being "tipped" that she won't do. "Ankles too thick," Wayburn comments.

Speaking of ankles, the expert confides that a girl's leg at the calf should equal the exact circumference of the neck. (Tape measures, girls!)

The kind in Miss Portland's mouth ruins her smile and her chances; Miss Minneapolis has too many colors in her hair; Miss Chicago is beautiful but bold, which lets her out; Miss Atlanta's waist is too substantial; Miss Downer's Grove is unclear in her enunciation; Miss Omaha's hands give her away. "Age shows first in the hands," Wayburn remarks.

A pleasingly plump person from Pittsburgh is discarded with this: "Fat is death." And so on. To "go on" Broadway, it seems, one must have, according to Wayburn:

Essentials Needed
1. Class, verve, personality. "Must carry a punch."
2. Good breeding. "Must be a lady first of all."
3. A good mind. He aims to "bring out their soul."
4. Talent. "That's seven-eighths."

5. Facial regularity. He can create the delusion that she is beautiful.

6. Figure. He can "trim down" or "build up." That, too, with diet and gymnastics.

The day's work is near at an end. Miss Margery Leet of Indianapolis, a demure miss in white silk bloomers, is dancing. She is sweet, smiling, svelte and snappy; she has "expression"; she has "rhythm." She has face, form and personality. She will do.

Wayburn has picked another. Two out of fifteen.

And hundreds of others are waiting hopefully on Broadway.

Mexico is spending over eight times for education as it did under Carranza's rule.

BRITISH-RUSSIAN RUPTURE FEARED

European Nations Hovering
On Brink of Warfare
Over Near East

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service
LONDON, May 17.—Acting Premier Stanley Baldwin replying to a question in the House of Commons this afternoon, said he could "give no assurance that there will not be a rupture between Great Britain and Soviet Russia."

With the Lausanne peace conference tottering and hostilities again threatened in the Near East, statesmen are frankly worried today over the new crop of crises which are besetting the future outlook. The whole European situation is unhappy with war rumblings.

It is understood Great Britain has made extensive plans to evacuate Constantinople in the event of fresh hostilities between Greece and Turkey. Constantinople dispatches indicate high tension between Russia and the Turks. The soviet government is reported massing troops on the Turkish Caucasus frontier.

War Clouds in Syria

The Turks and French are on the verge of fighting in Syria. According to latest information, the French are concentrating air planes and erecting fortifications on the border of Northern Syria. Angora denies the Turks have concentrated troops against the French.

Jugo-Slav and Bulgarian irregulars are clashing in the Balkan mountains.

The Anglo-Russian situation is delicate and holds tremendous possibilities concerning the peace of Europe. Many believe if an open break takes place some of the border states may go to war against Russia.

Marshal Foch, head of the French army, and Lord Cavan, head of the British army, went to Poland recently and were charged by soviet officials with stirring up anti-Russian feeling on the Russian border.

The trouble between Russia and Turkey developed after the first Near East peace conference at Lausanne. It has grown to such proportions that Russian ships in Turkish Black sea ports were ordered to leave.

Greece Are Arming

Greece has been working over her army for six months. The Greek attitude is emphasized by warlike declarations at Saloniki by General Pangalos, Greek commander in chief.

"Greece will drive the Turks out of Europe if hostilities begin," said General Pangalos. "If the peace conference fails and fighting breaks out we will be at the Turks in Asia as well as in Europe. Another thing is certain. Greece will not accept a peace forced upon her."

Belgium is upset with a general strike which has extended to the railroads. Brussels and Antwerp passenger trains have been suspended. Traffic everywhere has been deranged. There is no sign of a settlement of the Ruhr crisis.

The reparations question excites great alarm, although there are signs that Germany will make another offer.

TUNNEL NEARLY READY

The $11,000,000 tunnel of the Niagara Falls Power Company is nearing completion. This project includes the tunnel proper, with an over-all length of 4,300 feet, and a new 210,000 horsepower hydroelectric plant. The ground was broken April 25, 1921, and the tunnel driven through solid rock. More than 42,000 persons inspected the tunnel during the first week of April.

COMMENT That's All

International Situation
Richardson Gains Victory
Governor Hits At K. K. K.
Fortunes From Discovery

By Gil A. Cowan

FRANCE faces a crisis in the Ruhr; Britain faces a crisis with its labor; Russia has become defiant; and that is not all of an interesting international situation which we casually read about each evening in a comfortable chair on the porch as the summer skies melt into a golden yellow over yon mountain tops.

Californians care but little as they flit hither and yon in their motor cars. They care but little for the fate of Russia, or the economic status of Britain, or the collection of French war indemnities. And when Mr. Harding endeavors to drag this nation into a world "cont there is a revulsion toward it all.

Just as the east heeds not the peril of the Pacific, the people of the west care not for the profits to be made by international bankers. They read the editorials of the League of Nations papers, such as the Los Angeles Times and San Francisco Journal, with a grain of salt, if they read them at all. Indeed, they refuse to become excited in the least.

However, Californians might take a greater interest in national affairs were Hiram Johnson in the White House—where he should be. The entire west would respond more quickly if it had confidence in the president—and it should have. Therefore, we humbly suggest Warren Gamaliel Harding give up the ghost and permit a westerner to hold the honor of presidency for at least a term—and see what happens.

Governor Friend W. Richardson alone has won a victory in this state which is commendable. Be it known that he could have controlled the California legislature had he conceded the appropriation of possibly one hundred thousand dollars.

Rather than to violate his pre-election pledge that the spoils system must go, he accepted the support of a minority in both the assembly and senate and proceeded to put over the most progressive program of efficiency any state has ever known. He broke into the strongholds of the squanderlust and irreparably damaged political machines. He threw the fear of righteousness into every representative and he is now prepared to give to the people a real run for their money in state affairs.

For instance, it was good to hear T. M. Wright, who opposed the governor during the budget hearings, to say in committee that he opposed voting appropriations which the governor would veto.

For he saw the handwriting on the wall and had the nerve to say so. "I do not want to be one who is going to throw the state's money away and have the governor come to my county and charge me with being a reactionary spendthrift. I am going to be in a position to meet him with a brass band," he said.

By golly, that is a great victory for Richardson when he can yell away such men as Wright from the program of the old McCabe-Stephens machine. And the people are going to be highly satisfied with results, too, if we were to become prophetic in the matter.

It took the governor only a minute to affix his signature on the bill prohibiting the Ku Klux Klan to wear masks. That measure was introduced by John B. Badaracco of San Francisco, a Catholic, we understand.

The governor had been charged with being a member of the K. K. K. He is a Mason of high standing. But he saw right as right is and he took the mask off the Klan as a man should. All of which proves he is not a member of the nightgown order, but an honest American, worthy of his position in history.

This is written as an answer to the unscrupulous charges made against the governor during the campaign last fall when another candidate made capital of casting in Richardson's defeat.

We read with interest the report by a University of California professor that the famed Astor fortune came from finding the buried loot of Captain Kidd.

If true, and the professor provides plenty of evidence, it might be well to note that fortunes are usually based on discovery. Certainly, no one has made a great deal by daily toil.

Henry Ford discovered a principle in automotive engineering; Rockefeller made use of discoveries and brought about discoveries in the realm of oil; Pullman discovered that people would pay for the privilege of riding uncomfortably at night, as long as they were allowed to take off their clothes; and so on it goes.

But, whoever heard of a man discovering how to save money by getting married, rearing a large family and working hard? It isn't done!

There is compensation, however, in having good health and a happy flock of youngsters around the Christmas tree not to forget a satisfied wife who devotes herself to the service of her children, rather than getting her picture in the papers as a social satellite.

ARTIST TO GIVE JAPANESE SONGS

Southwest Museum Program to Include Selections
for Children

The Children's Hour at the Southwest Museum next Saturday morning, May 19, promises to be an exceptionally interesting one as Gertrude Toss, well-known artist and composer, is contributing a group of Japanese art songs—"Old Samurai Prayer"; "Butterfly," "Slumber Song of Izumi," "Firefly and Fuji"—which will be sung by Mrs. Jessie McDonald Patterson, with the composer at the piano.

The musical program will be followed by a brief discussion on the culture and customs of the Japanese and an old folk lore story entitled "Old Woman of the Dimples," and another called "Reflections," to be told by Miss Lyle Rooks. The stories for the month of May are being contributed by the Cumcock School of Expression under the direction of Miss Ethel Phillips.

The children of the public are cordially invited and are asked to arrive promptly, as the program commences at 10:30. Those coming in late will, of course, disturb the artists and the audience.

Sunday Program
Next Sunday afternoon, May 20, Evelyn Bruner, soprano, may be heard at the Southwest Museum, at 3 o'clock.

A selected program will be given, including "Homing," by Del Rio; "Blackbird," by Zyril Scott; "Will o' the Wisp," by Spross. Mrs. Allen Winter will accompany Mrs. Bruner.

The public is cordially invited. The lecture on this date will be given by Frederick J. Schwanovsky, Jr., head of the art department, Manual Arts High school, who will speak on "Art in Education and in Life."

The Junior Art exhibit is now in place and open to the public.

POMONA COLLEGE SINGERS PLEASE

Men's Glee Club Presents Splendid Program at Entertainment

A concert that happily combined classical music, semi-popular melodies and vivacious college harmonies, splendid ensemble work, pleasing solo numbers and other feature selections in a well-balanced program was given last night in the Congregational church by the Men's Glee club of Pomona college.

The best tribute that can be paid Ralph H. Lyman, director, and his Blue and White singers, is to say that they really sing, which is the foundation for the hearty ovation California audiences have given them during their 1923 season.

This is the thirty-first season of the Men's Glee club at Pomona college, and as the college has grown so this musical organization has developed from the old-time type of club to a talented, professional group of singers, whose appearance each year is anticipated wherever the name of Pomona college is known.

Selections Varied
While the club endeavors to maintain a reputation for thorough musicianship, it does not limit itself strictly to classical numbers. There are many humorous encores and stunts to enliven their entertainment. The best type of college humor is presented in varied and surprising forms, and the men have real ability in the campus as well as the classical line of music.

Paul Russell, lyric tenor, and Truman Douglass, violinist, are the talented soloists appearing with the club and they were enthusiastically applauded for their work last night.
